

ABA Faculty Positions / BCBA or Eligible

Due to an unanticipated vacancy, The Chicago School of Professional Psychology seeks a doctoral level faculty member immediately to join our exciting and innovative Department of Applied Behavior Analysis for Fall 2008. We train both masters and doctoral-level practitioners and are building a unique, internationally known program by applying ABA techniques to provide the highest quality training in ABA and clinical skills. The Department is organized around the selectionistic philosophy of Radical Behaviorism, rigorous, cutting edge behavioral measures, and teaching students to be providers of state-of-the-art services.

Ideal applicants will express high energy; have proven skills in graduate-level teaching; a commitment to scholarship and service; be dedicated to preparing excellent future ABA professionals, and have substantial ABA service delivery experience. Applicants may request consideration for either a visiting or a continuing appointment.

General Job Accountabilities:

- Teach students at a graduate level in topics related to Applied Behavior Analysis
- Contribute to curriculum and Departmental development
- Monitor student learning outcomes
- Provide clinical and research supervision and academic advisement to ABA students
- Prepare students to pass the BACB Exam and work as independent professionals.

Job Requirements and Qualifications:

- Doctoral Degree
- BCBA or eligible
- Licensed (or eligible) as a clinical psychologist desirable
- Expertise across multiple ABA areas and skills, including Precision Teaching, discrete trials, CABAS, verbal behavior, fluency, autism, and clinical behavior analysis (e.g. Acceptance and Commitment Therapy).
- Experience and expertise in the use of PSI, SAFMEDS and other behavioral methods of instruction with documented effectiveness.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Applicants must submit a CV, three letters of recommendation, and a letter of interest to the attention of:

Ms. Queen Washington, Department Manager
The Chicago School of Professional Psychology
325 North Wells Street
Chicago, Illinois 60610
qwashington@thechicagoschool.edu

Organization Description:

The Chicago School of Professional Psychology is an independent, non-profit graduate school that provides outstanding education in a student-centered environment. The Chicago School awards Doctor of Psychology (Psy. D.) degrees in ABA, Clinical Psychology and Business Psychology, and Master of Arts (M.A.) degrees in Industrial/Organization Psychology, Forensic Psychology, Counseling and Applied Behavior Analysis.

The Clinical Psychology doctoral program is accredited by the American Psychological Association. The school is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission and is a member of the North Central Association. The Chicago School is also an active member of the National Council of Schools and Progress of Professional Psychology, which has recognized the school for its distinguished service and outstanding contribution to cultural diversity.